Tuesday

My Darling Wife.

Didn't hear from you today but since there were no calls left at the desk either figures things must be O.K. You have done much better than I on this letter writing though and I sure am glad you have kept my mind at ease about our baby.

Thanks for the cookies and candy its arrived on Valentines day and I'll bet you didn't get yours till Tues. Both the Valentines were cute and I liked the message on each.

Things at school get a little more interesting each day and I realize now that a year won't be time enough for me to get all the things done that I'll want when I get back on the job.

Before anything else thought,
when I get home I'll want to just sit down and talk
with you and enjoy myself.
It will sure be good to get home again.

I check the Train schedule for coming home. I leave here at 12:20 and arrive in Chicago around 7:00 o'clock. Then take the 11:00 o'clock train out of Chicago.

Will not much else to write about so will say goodbye
for now. All my Love,

Don.
