Tuesday

Dear Ulina,

It was wonderful to get to talk with you tonight. It's a relief to know you and Eve are getting along so splendidly.

Don't you think you're overdoing, having a brush party & causing you so much extra work? I do realize too that you need something to pass the time.

After phoning you, I went down with boy for a hamburger and then came back up to write and go to bed. Sure isn't much to do here after school is out. It would be so much more fun if you were only here. Anyway, I'm getting a lot of new ideas, which I will want to use in the store when I get back. Am wondering if the days will be long enough.

Harling - can hardly wait to hear what the Dr. has to say this week, but know I won't have word here until Saturday.

I'm dropping mother a card and telling her to be with you next week so I'll know someone is with you all the time.

I don't know yet how I'll get transportation out of here before 11:00 Friday night but am going to check on it some more. It takes about 12 hrs. by bus to get to Chicago from here so am just as well off to wait 6 hrs. on a train as to go by bus.

I didn't realize that you were left with so many things to do, but guess that's running true to form with me. Wish I could see all the new baby clothes. Did you get overalls or dresses? Somehow it has all seemed so far away until now and I feel that somehow I have failed you on helping get ready for everything. Well - with my time here half gone, we can start counting the days left and it won't be long. I can hardly wait to get back to that wonderful home life again. I love you my Darling. Please keep that in mind - will you? all my love now
